MADERO CENTER:

Madero Center is a residential and office buildings complex located at 555 Juana Manso In Puerto Madero neighborhood, Buenos Aires. It was finished in 2008.

It consists of a complex of four buildings that occupy an entire block, giving space to a large inner courtyard. Madero Center has three residential buildings (with apartments that range from 105 up to 690 square meters) and one office building: the one facing Juana Manso avenue. There is a place meant to amenities and services in the center of the block, which are top-quality. There are stores on the ground floor, on Pierina Dealessi, Trinidad Guevara and Macacha Güemes streets.

The architecture style is contemporary and subtle; the office blocks have completely glazed facades with irregular slabs which protrude diagonally in the form of horizontal sunshades. The residential blocks alternate glazed and blind planes with square windows and adjacent balconies.
